Systematic study of formal and intrinsic qualities of over 100 Olmec monumental sculptures in the Veracruz/Tabasco area, dating 1300-400 B.C. General and local style characteristics are defined under three categories: human (which predominate), animal, and composite representations. Stylistic sequences for monuments at San Lorenzo (the oldest, "classic" style) and
